

Climate change is not a good thing for our planet because it can affect us in a very short period of time but if we intervene we might be able to tackle climate change by looking after our planet we can help it by not littering and cleaning our terrain so it will be better for our environment and our health as we are able to clean outdoors climate change is getting more weak so hopefully people will start to realise that climate change is not just a natural thing to us it is dangerous and it can cause floods what will destroy a lot of people's homes in a really big problem please help people to be more safe by helping them clean out terrain it's not like weather because weather is more safer than climate change because weather is natural but climate change is not if we don't intervene it will destroy our planet and we don't want that to happen because it's our only planet we can live and survive on so if you don't want to destroy our earth then help us and we can live in a happy and healthy world we can live in a safe place and we can also have fun and enjoy our lives and we can grow our world into a better place to be safe and to enjoy the world is getting destroyed because of climate change littering and smoke/gas and fires all create climate change everybody can help stop this horrible climate change and the temperature of our environment is rising and because of climate change every summer the sun gets hotter as we speak .

It takes at least 5 or 6 years for climate change which is a lot of time for us to change the climate change and climate change is the long term change of temperature and other elements of the weather .

Pollution is something in climate change what modifies the natural characteristics of that environment and also pollution is the introduction of harmful material into the environment

An ice age is when all our terrain is frozen and because of climate change so the animals have no food or homes .

Deforestation is also a thing what creates the problem and it is when people cut down trees so that more carbon dioxide is left in the air because the trees aren't breathing it in.

Not driving cars would help reduce pollution and we will have a happy and healthy future for the planet and our future generations to come because in the future the sea levels will rise to high and our homes will flood
And people and animals will lose their homes and they could die.

As a school we could help the planet to be more of a safe and healthy environment for our terrain and other people if we don't change how climate change affects the environment and people in our society the human population will not survive and it will drop down by a lot but if we use solar panels on our houses we won't need to use electricity what we would usually pay for and we can use wind turbines we can change our planet and also change the climate change and also we can drive electric vehicles such as cars vans camping vans motorcycles motorbikes and other vehicles what are powered by electric instead of gas driving electric vehicles can change climate change a lot so we should use more electric vehicles and we can change the planet in a way what can save a lot of people's lives and even more of the animal kingdom to
And it is clear that climate change is an issue which impacts almost every part of our planet is affected and it impacts people's lives in some way so if we all as a society can change our planet and save people's and animals lives what are important to us and wild life and if we save the animals it will save wild life and also save us with life and food because we need food to eat and live if we don't eat food we can't function and we can't survive.
